

* Static vs Dynamic Language:

i) Static:

- Perform type checking at compile time
- Errors will show at compile time.
- Declare datatype before you use it.
- more control.

ii) Dynamic:

- Perform type checking at runtime.
- Error might not show till program is run.
- No need to declare datatype of variables.
- Saves time in writing code but might give error at runtime.